

The current Church of St John the Evangelist, was dedicated on 21st April 1894.

This Easter Day 21st April 2019 we commemorated the 125th anniversary with a Festal Eucharist celebrated by the Rector, Rev. Canon Stephen Fielding. The Preacher was Rt. Rev. A.E.T. Harper, a former rector of the Parish and former Archbishop of Armagh. The Rt. Rev. Edward Darling (also a former Rector) read the Gospel. The service was followed by a reception in the L'Estrange Hall.

During the previous Holy Week the Most Rev. Dr. Richard Clarke presided and preached at the Palm Sunday Eucharist and also preached at services on Holy Wednesday and Maundy Thursday.

We have cause to celebrate the 125 years of the current church building and longer as a parish. We wish to share this with friends, family, neighbours and fellow parishioners by further events throughout the year.
